PLAN TO DIVIDE UP THE REVENUE

Would Decrease Deficit in General Fund.

Examination of State Banks Proposed--Governor's Latest Message.

BY J. H. STUART.

Frankfort, Ky. (Special.)—The fight over the county unit extension bill did not end when the bill was referred to an unfavorable committee in the senate 10 days ago, for the friends of the bill are still full of energy and propose to keep trying every way to push the bill through. It has been tacitly understood that the house by a considerable majority would vote for the bill, so when the senate took what was considered unfavorable action on the measure, its friends in the house planned a reprisal movement. They began circulating a written pledge amongst the representatives stating that each member signing it would refuse to advance a single senate bill in the house until a direct vote was taken on the passage of the county unit bill in the senate. After some dozen or more had signed it, the promoters learned that such a movement would lose the bill several votes in the senate, so the matter was dropped. The opponents of the bill now claim that if it comes to a vote in the senate a majority will vote against it, but that can not be proven till the vote is taken, though it is known that the senate is very evenly divided on the proposition. The final result is being watched with much interest all over the state.

Senator Burnam of Madison has introduced a bill intended to help decrease the deficit in the general expenditure fund in the state treasury. His measure proposes to divide up the revenue derived under the 50 cents on the $100 tax rate that is now in force, a little different from its present division. At present the school fund gets 26 cents of the 50-cent tax, the general expenditure fund gets 21½ cents, the sinking fund 2 cents and the State university one-half a cent. He proposes to reduce the school fund to 24½ cents, the sinking fund to 1½ cents and to increase the general expenditure fund to 23½ cents, leaving the State university just as it is now. He says investigation shows that the 26-cent rate allowed the school fund increased the per capita for school children last year to over $4, and by reducing the amount to 24½ cents, the per capita will still be as much as $4, which he thinks is amply sufficient, and will at the same time increase the revenue that goes into the general expenditure fund sufficiently to help pay off much of the deficit. He says further that as the state has practically no debt, there is no need to keep that rate at 2 cents, since a 1½-cent rate will bring in enough revenue to meet in 20 years the $500,000 of bonds that may be authorized by this legislature.

Governor Willson has decided not to send all his advice to the legislature at one time, but will give it to them in broken doses. He sent in another part of his message Friday, the larger part of which is taken up in discussing the tax question. He indorses the work done by the tax commission and urges that the necessary amendment to the constitution be made so that a new tax system may be enacted. He recommends that the state be allowed to collect taxes only on personal property, the county to collect taxes only on the real estate in the county outside the cities in that county and that the cities be allowed to collect taxes only on the real property inside the city limits. He says it is too much of a burden now on city taxpayers to pay state, county and city taxes on the same piece of property, and to pay the same taxes on bonds and stocks takes all the profit derived from that sort of property, hence people who own stocks and bonds perjure themselves by not listing them for taxation. He indorses the bill which seeks to create a state tax commission.

He recommends that a law be passed authorizing the performance of the surgical operation of vasectomy, to prevent the bearing of children by insane people and habitual criminals. He says the law as to inquests on funerals is too loosely enforced and recommends that in each case two physicians from a neighboring county should examine every one accused of being crazy or a lunatic. He says Architect Andrews recommends that $300,000 more be appropriated to complete the work of decorating the new statehouse and beautifying the grounds. He says there is no hurry for some of the things the architect recommends, but says that $300,000 ought to be provided by this legislature for the purposes mentioned and also to pay for some more land adjacent to the capitol.

He reminds the legislature that there is no use to make appropriations unless some way is provided to get the money to pay them. He says he is not antagonistic to the majority in the legislature and will gladly approve any reasonable appropriation for things needed by the state institutions if some method to pay them is adopted.

He urges the legislature not to abolish the board of control, and to let it remain bipartisan as it now is, as it has accomplished a great work. He says the reports show that the board has saved $80,000 in two years out of the per capita income, which sum they applied to buildings and improved machinery at the asylums. He recommends that the penitentiaries and house of reform be put under the board of control, which means he wants the prison commission abolished.

He says the present governor's mansion is practically unfit to live in and urges the legislature to appropriate $60,000 to erect a suitable mansion for his successor near the new capitol, and that the present mansion and square of ground be turned over to the penitentiary for hospital purposes.

He recommends that the buildings and grounds of the old capitol be sold to the highest bidder, and estimates that it will bring $100,000. He says to sell it would do away with constantly recurring schemes to use it for some expensive and unnecessary institution to be created by the legislature.

The fact that several state banks have failed and lost all the money of hundreds of widows and orphans in the past two years has created a strong sentiment in favor of having a system by which state banks can be examined every few months, as national banks are now examined, by expert accountants. Several bills looking to this end have been introduced, and it is likely that one of them will be passed. The bill offered by Senator Arnett of Jessamine, who is a banker himself, provides for the establishment of a banking department with a bank commissioner at the head of it, with an assistant commissioner and three bank examiners to do the real work. This bill is favored by the bankers generally, and as it will cost the state nothing to carry out its provisions, it is meeting with much favor.

The increased cost of living in the past 10 years has induced the senate to pass a bill that in a roundabout way increases the salaries of circuit judges from $3,000 a year to $1,200 a year. The constitution provides that the salary of any officer can not be changed after he has entered upon his duties, and as all the circuit judges entered upon their six-year terms on the first of this year it seemed as though they would be unable to get any increase for six years at least. A bill was introduced, however, providing that regular circuit judges should serve as special judges in other districts than their own when no court was in session in their own districts, and for this extra work they are to be paid an additional $1,200 a year.

Among the Lodges.

Hartford Lodge No. 675, F. & A. M. will have work in the first and second degrees next Monday night. Every member is urged to be present.

Acme Lodge No. 339 I. O. O. F. gave three candidates all three of the degrees at the regular meeting last Friday evening, the work being put on in a very creditable manner. One petition was also received.

Rough River Lodge No. 110, K. of R. held a well attended meeting last Tuesday evening and gave the third rank to Prof. George E. Bailey. The supper, which was to have been provided was deferred indefinitely. This lodge will probably celebrate the anniversary of the order the 19th of this month by instituting a lodge at Beaver Dam. District Deputy Knight John B. Wilson is doing some faithful and good work in this line.

CONGRESSES IN WASHINGTON.

Many Meetings Held in National Capitol.

Not "High Cost of Living," But
Cost of High Living,
Says Hill.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—Last week there were three congresses in Washington for besides the regular Congress on Capitol Hill there was the Assembly of Governors, and the Civic Federation. Both these extra congresses have departed but the National Board of Trade is here in session, numbering nearly eight hundred members. Not all of this number is here but a very large representative committee which may be called the brains of the organization is here to assist the committee of Congress and the people of the United States in bringing about a reduction in the cost of living. This is the subject which, it appears, is agitating the country at large now and it is indeed a vital as well as a great subject. James J. Hill, the great railroad magnate says "It is not the high cost of living that is bothering the country and creating anxiety in every community between the oceans, but the cost of high living." There is a great deal in his exclamation of expression and he is no doubt correct in assuming that the cost of high living is at the bottom of the difficulty. Mr. Hill has traveled; he has read and studied and he has heard the eloquent orators of all parties apotheosize the over flowing dinner pail. He knows we feed our dogs more in this country than the workmen of China and India get to eat. He knows that we are the most wasteful and prodigal people on the face of the face of the planet. The women of Washington are grappling with the subject and a society leader who has been distinguished for her entertainments without meat or strong drink, is very hopeful that the agitation against meat and the boycotts that are prevailing throughout the country may result in a permanent change in the popular diet that will result in a beneficial hygienic condition. There is probably too much meat in the national diet and there would doubtless be less rheumatism, headache and other uric acid diseases if cereals, fruits, milk and butter, olive oil and nuts were substituted in a greater degree for beef, mutton or pork.

It is said that the postal bank Bill will be passed by this Congress. The Bill establishing such banks, presented by Senator Carter, is the one most favorably considered and it is expected it will pass with but slight amendment. Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, the wife of the famous Confederate general who was shot accidentally by his own men during the War, is now in Washington and was this week a dinner guest at the White House where she received a warm welcome from President and Mrs. Taft. Mrs. Jackson is visiting Mrs. Lester whose eldest daughter it will be remembered married Mr. Curzon then a member of the British Parliament and who was afterwards knighted as the Baroness Kiddleston and was for a number of years Viceroy of India, an office of great state and importance. The Viceroy used a considerable portion of his wife's great fortune in renewing the ancient ruins of Indian temples, in excavations and the collection and preservation of Indian antiquities.

It is evident that the Republican party as represented in the House of Representatives and the Senate has great anxiety with regard to its political future. Senator Root, diplomat, statesman and jurist as he is without doubt, has attempted a new role as political manager and is calling to the Republican cohorts in the Empire State to stand firm and flee not. He realizes that Gov. Hughes' administration, upholding ideals of purity and honesty in politics, has had a disintegrating effect on the party. The Republicans in Congress here realize that there is danger of losing the next House of Representatives and are doing everything in their power to turn the tide so as to secure a Democratic defeat in the coming elections. But they have also to fight dissensions in their own ranks, for the insurgents are protesting against the present organization of the House. The Republicans are hoping that they can be able to make gains in the South, President Taft's evident popularity in some southern localities and the high tariff sentiment in some southern sections, they think, give promise of Republican success here and there, that they may be in a degree offset gains Democratic gains in other parts of the country.

It is quite unusual in fashionable Washington at least for the question "what shall we eat?" to be of greater importance than "where-withal shall we be clothed," but the food question is paramount at present and is discussed in Congress in the Chamber of Commerce, in the Board of Trade, in the papers and everywhere. The discussion is having its effect and many retail dealers have slightly reduced the selling price of flesh foods, butter and eggs. There is a vegetarian cult in Washington and its votaries see in this agitation the dawn of a vegetarian millennium when cereals, nuts, legumes, butter, milk, and oil will be substituted for the muscular and fatty parts of animals. We have read that the orientals in China live on next to no meat, and that those of India religiously abstain from all flesh foods. Your correspondent has seen life in both countries and can testify from observation on the spot that the cost of what the average American workman spends for food in one day will furnish an Oriental sustenance for one week. His wages are three annas or six cents a day and he boards and clothes himself.

ANSWERS INQUIRIES.

Farmers Given Information on Burley Tobacco.

Seed Will be Furnished to Those Who Wish to Grow
This Variety.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 28, 1910.—We have had a great many recent inquiries seeking our views as to the most profitable variety of tobacco to grow. These inquiries have come both from farmers who have heretofore been engaged in growing tobacco and from those who live in sections where it is proposed to introduce tobacco-growing. We have therefore concluded to give expression to some facts that may assist those who are trying to determine as to what variety of tobacco promises the best results to the growers.

The time of year is close at hand when the farmers who intend growing tobacco this year must decide upon the variety to be grown. This decision should be made on the basis of the probable best returns for the labor expense of producing the crop.

The crop of Burley grown last year was an unusually large one and a test of the wants of the trade for this variety of tobacco.

A large proportion of the 1909 Burley crop has been marketed and an unusually large proportion of that which has been sold, has gone into the hands of the manufacturers—thus demonstrating that the values which have been obtained have not been created by speculative demand, but represent prices which the manufacturers could afford to pay and were willing to pay for the Burley crop. This condition of itself offers great inducement for the production of Burley this year, as the prices now current are based upon values at which the tobacco may go into consumption and not upon prices created by speculation and dependent upon future developments for justification.

The farmers who raised Burley last year have been well compensated, as prices have ruled high from the opening with an advancing market as the season advanced. The conditions have been such that values have been remunerative to growers of Burley tobacco, no matter whether they elected to sell at home or patronize the loose auction markets, or to continue to prize their tobacco in hogheads and ship to the old established auction markets.

A large amount of Burley tobacco has been sold on our market this winter which was grown in sections not heretofore growing Burley. Some of this tobacco came from the very center and heart of sections which have for years been almost exclusively engaged in the growth of the dark red tobacco for export purposes. Some of it has come from the section producing what is known as the "one sucker" variety of tobacco. Some of it has come from the Counties producing what is known as "Green River" tobacco. Some of it has come from sections not heretofore growing any variety of tobacco. From all of these sections we have received Burley tobacco of good quality and which sold at high prices—yielding to the grower very much better returns than could have been obtained by growing any other variety of tobacco.

The great adaptability of Burley tobacco for different soils and climate has been fully demonstrated, and its growth has been a great success in localities heretofore producing only dark types, and in sections not heretofore supposed to be adapted to the growth of any variety of tobacco.

The crop of tobacco grown in our state last year other than Burley, was not an unusually large one. The crop of Burley was unprecedentedly large, yet values for Burley have been unusually high, while values for other types have experienced no such improvement, but to the contrary prices in some sections where the crop was not above an average in size, have been lower than the prices at which the previous crop was marketed. The yield of Burley tobacco per acre is larger than the yield per acre of other varieties grown in our State. The price of Burley tobacco is higher than that of any other variety. The cost of production of Burley tobacco is not greater than the expense attending other varieties. Burley tobacco may be marketed to advantage earlier than other varieties, as there is a demand for this variety of tobacco in winter order by the manufacturer direct, and it need not be redried as other varieties must be to establish its consumptive value.

The net average price to the farmer who raised tobacco in 1909—by which we mean the price at their barns when the tobacco was ready for delivery or pricing, has certainly not been less than $13.00 per hundred. This includes all classes of Burley growers—those who sold at home; those who hauled their tobacco and sold on the loose auction markets. It must be remembered that the crop contained a large proportion of common tobacco, and quite a large amount of tobacco grown and handled by those not experienced in tobacco growing, yet the net average price per hundred to all classes of growers and including the tobacco from all sections, we are fully satisfied is not less than the price we have indicated of $13.00 per hundred.

We feel justified in saying that the average net price for the 1909 crop to the farmers who raised all other varieties of tobacco in our state is not in excess of $7.00 per hundred.

The Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company has a supply of genuine Burley tobacco seed on hand which will be furnished to those wishing to grow this variety of tobacco.

Court Notes.

The examining trial of Estill Spencer, who together with Clifton Cooper and his brother, Paul Cooper had a considerable shooting match at Fordville, December, 24th, was held before Judge Henderson at Fordville, Monday. The evidence all tended to show that Spencer acted in self-defense and the court promptly discharged him. Clifton Cooper had previously waived examining trial and Paul Cooper has not yet been apprehended.

Two boys from Georgetown, Ky., Mack Henry and Roy Simmons, were arrested at Dundee Monday afternoon on a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons. They were brought before Judge Wedding Tuesday and both pleaded guilty to the charge. A 44 Colts was found on one and a 32 Ivory Johnson on the other. They pleaded with the court that they be released without being sent to jail, promising that if they were they would return home and send back money to pay their fine. They were permitted to go under this promise.

Judge W. H. Barnes and Hon. Ben D. Ringo, argued the case of Missely vs Hamilton before Court of Appeals Tuesday. This is a suit to recover possession of land under tax title, which was recently tried in the Circuit Court here and appealed to the Court of Appeals.

STANLEY WINS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Over Clements and Givens By An Overwhelming Majority.

The Democratic primary election held in the Second Congressional district Wednesday of this week resulted in an overwhelming victory for present congressman, Hon. A. O. Stanley. There were two other contestants, the Hon. L. Vega Clements of Daviess county and Judge C. C. Givens, of Hopkins county. Mr. Clements is one of the most popular Democrats in Daviess county and made a vigorous fight as did also Judge Givens, who is editor of the Henderson Gleaner. The returns show that out of the 16000 votes polled, Stanley received more than 10,000, Givens received 3079 and Clements 2,897, giving Stanley more than 5,000 majority over both opponents. Stanley carried six counties out of the eight and Clements carried Daviess county by 333 and Givens Hopkins county by 188. The strong fight which Mr. Stanley has made in behalf of the tobacco growers in congress added him in his race, and the result emphasizes what this paper has been claiming sometime that it is utterly useless to nominate anyone on either ticket in Kentucky in the agricultural district who has not stood by the farmers against the trust.

Annual Mill-End and REMNANT SALE.

It is With Pleasure We Announce Our One Sale of All Sales

A sale which is looked forward to by all our regular customers and by many who trade with us occasionally and by a few regular bargain hunters. This sale is for all classes and conditions. We make good and do not disappoint, if you will do your part. Mill-End and Remnant Sale definition: About once a year all the great factories gather all their short lengths accumulated during the season and allow bids from the largest and best bidders. For some peculiar reason St. Louis gets most of the juicy bargains and being informed of the time and place of their arrival we in turn buy them for you and make an Annual Remnant Sale. We have been very fortunate this season and profiting by previous years experience we feel that we know just what to buy and will share with you these great bargains. Together with these Remnants of prints, Domestic Percals, Sheetings, Waistings, India Linens, Crashes, Ribbons, Laces, Embroideries, &c. we will offer our regular stock not only the broken lots but the very cream of that stock all will be cut into and your many portions in a genuine reduction.

HAS PRODUCED MANY GOVERNORS

Kentucky Leads All Other States in That Respect.

Executive Chair of Seventeen States Have Been Filled
by Bluegrass Sons.

The Lexington Leader contains a copy of the paper which J. W. Townsend, Librarian of the Carnegie Library at Lexington, author of "The Life of Richard Menifee" and other historic works, read before the meeting of the Ohio Valley Historical Association, at Frankfort, and at another time by request before the Filson Club of Louisville.

The title of the paper is "Kentucky: Mother of Governors," and it gives the names of the one hundred and four Kentuckians and adopted sons who have gone to other States to become later, the Chief Executive.

Missouri leads in Kentuckians as Governors with a total of ten, namely: Lilburn W. Boggs, 1836; Thomas Reynolds, 1840; John C. Edwards, 1845; Clayborn F. Jackson, 1860; Benjamin Gratz Brown, 1870; Silas Woodson, 1872; Charles H. Hardin, 1874; Thomas T. Crittenden, 1880; David R. Francis, 1889; William J. Stone, 1892.

Illinois stands second. Following were her Governors from Kentucky: Nathaniel Pope, appointed Secretary of the Territory twenty days after its organization, 1809; Joseph Duncan, 1834; Thomas Garlin, 1838; Richard Yates, 1860; Richard J. Oglesby, served as twelfth, fourteenth and eighteenth Governor; John M. Palmer, 1868; Shelby M. Cullom, 1876-1882.

Indiana comes third with James B. Ray, 1826; Henry Smith Lane, 1860; Claude Mathews, 1892; Ohio has two Thomas Corwin, 1840; Richard Moore Bishop, 1877.

Gen. James Miller, of New Hampshire, was appointed the first Territorial Governor of Arkansas, but while he was on his way there, Robert Crittenden, of Kentucky, served as Governor.

Henry M. Rector, who was born in Louisville in 1816, was elected in 1860 as the sixth Governor of Arkansas, while Thomas J. Churchill, of Louisville, was elected in 1880 as the thirteenth Chief Executive.

John Long Route, of Kentucky, was the only one to serve in the gubernatorial chair of Colorado. He was elected in 1890.

David S. Walker was elected the seventh Governor of Florida in 1865. He was the only one to serve from Kentucky.

Frank W. Hunt, born at Newport, Ky., was the fifth Governor of Idaho in 1900.

Gov. Edward W. Hoch, of Kansas, who is serving his second term, is a former Kentuckian.

Two Kentuckians have occupied the Governor's chair in Louisiana, Robert C. Wickliffe, 1856; Joshua Baker, 1867. Willis A. Gorman, of Kentucky, was the second Territorial Governor of Minnesota, 1853-1857.

Montana leads the Western States in having Kentuckians as Chief Executives. Green Clay Smith, 1866; Samuel T. Hauser, 1885; Preston H. Leslie, 1887; Robert B. Smith, 1896. Edward L. Norris, the present incumbent, is also a Kentuckian.

Nebraska has two—Wm. A. Richardson, 1858; Alvin Saunders, 1861. Joseph C. S. Blackburn, whose political career is of international fame, is another son of Kentucky to rule over one of the United States provinces as Governor. He served as Governor in the Canal Zone until a few months ago when he returned to Kentucky and retired from politics.

Three Kentuckians served in sunny Tennessee. They are Albert S. Marks, 1873; Alvin Hawkins, 1880; Benton McMillin, 1899, who was re-elected in 1901.

Texas has two. The first Provincial Governor of Texas was Henry Smith, of Kentucky, in 1855.

Two Kentuckians have also served in the Chief Executive chair of Utah. They are, Eli H. Murray, 1880; Caleb W. West, 1886.

Although nine Virginians have served as Governors of Kentucky, John Flood was the only Kentuckian to hold the gubernatorial chair of Virginia. He was elected in 1820.

Mr. Townsend also gives the history of the adopted sons of Kentucky who have been Governors of the various States and Territories. The article is one of the most comprehensive that has ever been written on this particular subject.

675 F. & A. M.

As we are a member of Hartford Lodge No. 675, F. & A. M., we may be accused of not only attempting but being really gully of "tooting our own horn." But we feel justified in saying that our lodge is prospering as it never prospered before and this prosperity is due not alone to the efforts of any one member, but to the concerted efforts of many members. No Masonic lodge in the county or State has a more zealous and efficient Master, one who is putting forth greater efforts to make his lodge the best, nor can there be found a Master who has a greater love for the cardinal virtues of Freemasonry.

Our Wards and Deacons are bright, active Masons and are not only performing well the duties which they are expected to perform as officers, but are ably assisting the Master and leaving nothing undone that will in any way benefit the lodge and the cause of Freemasonry.

Our Stewards are excellent. They know their duties. They perform them in a Masonic manner. They have no fun. They inject no levity into their work and we commend them.

Our Secretary is serving his first term, but should ever bear in mind, that upon him depends, to a very great extent, the success of the lodge, because, when records are not properly kept, there will be great dissatisfaction among the membership, important business will be neglected and the lodge will soon go to ruin.

Our Treasurer is a jolly, whole-souled fellow, one who is always ready to receive funds from the hands of the Secretary, giving receipt for same and paying lodge warrants when properly drawn.

His duties do not necessarily require his presence at every meeting of the lodge, but he is one who believes in punctuality.

Our Tyler is the best of all; for he knows when the members need water, fire, aprons, etc., and he knows that if it were not for his great love for Masonry and the boys, many members of the lodge would fail to gain admission, because it would be as difficult for them to give the pass-word as for a camel to go through the eye of a needle.

Our Chaplain is one of the oldest members of the lodge and he is a Mason in deed and in truth. He first attends his church and then his lodge, which is clearly the duty of every good Mason.

Masonry does not profess to do for man what the religion of our Saviour will do; but to be a Mason at heart, and to live it, will make a man better and all things that make men better should be classed as good things.

Those Pies of Boyhood.

How delicious were the pies of boyhood. No pies now ever taste so good. What's changed? The pies? No, it's you. You've lost the strong, healthy stomach, the vigorous liver, the active kidneys, the regular bowels of boyhood, our digestion is poor and you blame the food. What's needed? Accomplish toning up by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—Try them. They'll restore your boyhood appetite and appreciation of food and fairly saturate your body with new health, strength and vigor. 50c at all druggists.

BALD KNOB.

Feb. 2.—People are very busy preparing for farming in this neighborhood.

Mrs. J. A. Davis, who fell and has been very sick is improving.

Mrs. Susan Nicholson, of Rob Roy, who has been very sick for sometime is no better.

The entertainment given at Rob Roy school house was fine. There was a very large crowd present. Mr. Orla Wallace, teacher, taught as a good school. We wish him much success in the future.

Aunt Rachel Gilstrap was given a birthday dinner the 1st. It was her eighty-eight birthday. Those who were present were Messrs. Marion Sanderford and Edgar Gilstrap, of Cromwell, and Misses Harriet, Mae and Cora A. Sanderford.

Mr. Henry Taylor who has been on the sick list for sometime is much better.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. LOW RATES TO NASHVILLE.

Great Industrial Exposition
Open February 28.

Many Attractions for The Public and Everything Free.

On Monday, Feb. 28, The Nashville Exposition will throw open its doors to the public, inviting them to see, under one roof, a beautiful and instructive exhibit illustrating the progress and achievements of commerce and industry, and showing what is latest in the products of the factories of this country. A merchants' exposition—one which keeps them abreast of what is most modern and up-to-date in merchandising.

BUSINESS BUILDING.

For the benefit of merchants, many thousands of whom will visit the Exposition from the Southern States, experts will deliver addresses on many subjects pertinent to Business Building, Science in Newspaper Advertising, Modern Merchandising—"How to Carry on Business," "How to Display Goods," "How to Put on Sales," "How to Attract and to Extend Trade," "How to Dress Windows," "How to Handle Clerks," "How to Advertise," "How to get New Customers," "How to Make Collections."

COMMUNITY BUILDING.

Interesting talks will be made by men of national reputation on the following subjects: "How to Build a City," "How to Get New Capital and Investment," "How to Attract More People to Your Community."

FINE EXPOSITION BUILDING.

The building in which the Exposition is to be held is the big Hippodrome, especially adapted for exposition purposes. Each exhibit will be in a specially constructed and artistically decorated booth with graceful columns in white and gold, and myriads of incandescent lights.

FREE AMUSEMENTS.

To entertain all those who visit the exposition, a program of free amusements has been arranged. The Nashville Military Band will render concerts every day and night; a fine noon and night from the big stage at the south end of the building, and free moving picture shows every afternoon and night.

EVERYTHING FREE.

All these interesting and amusing features are absolutely free to the public—no charges whatsoever.

LOW RAILROAD RATES.

A one and one-third rate railroad fare makes the trip to Nashville very cheap, and it is expected that large numbers will attend the Exposition from all over the South.

For sore throat, sharp pain in lungs, tightness across the chest, hoarseness or cough, have the parts with Sloan's Liniment. You don't need to rub, just lay it on lightly. It penetrates instantly to the seat of the trouble, relieves congestion and stops the pain.

Here's the Proof.
Mr. A. W. Price, Fredonia, Kans., says: "We have used Sloan's Liniment for a year, and find it an excellent thing for sore throat, chest pains, colds, and hay fever attacks. A few drops taken on sugar stops coughing and sneezing instantly."

Sloan's Liniment

is easier to use than porous plasters, acts quicker and does not clog up the pores of the skin.

It is an excellent anesthetic remedy for asthma, bronchitis, and all inflammatory diseases of the throat and chest; will break up the deadly membrane in an attack of croup, and will kill any kind of neuralgia or rheumatic pains.

All druggists keep Sloan's Liniment. Price 25c, 50c, & $1.00. Dr. Earl S. Sloan, BOSTON, MASS.

PARRISH GIVES OUT STATEMENT.

Does Not Understand The Action of Lord

In Permitting Judges to Believe His Accusers—Still Maintains Innocence.

From a statement given out by James H. Parrish, who is confined in jail at Hawesville, awaiting to be transferred to the Eddyville penitentiary to begin a five year sentence, it appears that he will take no further legal steps to gain his liberty. When the court of appeals denied the petition for a rehearing Mr. Parrish endeavored to get his attorneys to attempt to take the case to the federal courts but as yet no federal question has been discovered on which further action can be taken.

In his statement issued at Hawesville Mr. Parrish says:

Since the announcement came through the papers that the court of appeals overruled my petition for a rehearing I have not seen my counsel, to know if there is any other step I can take in this fight.

Knowing my innocence of any wrong-doing in connection with the bank, I ask my friends to accept this statement of fact till I can prove it to them, which I will gladly do if it is God's will.

All who believe I have done wrong are taking Mr. T. A. Podley's word against me, refusing to take my word supported by W. E. Whiteley, George Parrish and others. Mr. Podley is the source of all misrepresentations to press and prosecution.

Please thank our friends of Hawesville, who have been so kind to me and mine while here, and say to all our friends that we having tested the promises of the Savior whose salvation we accepted thirty-five years ago, we can now, by faith in Jesus, say with Paul, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God." We do not understand why God has permitted, or ordered, the people and my judges to believe the malicious misrepresentations of the assets of the bank and of myself, but we shall know, and until we do, will not doubt His care who has numbered the hairs of our head.

Trusting Him to right all wrongs who said "Vengeance is mine, I will repay;" with best wishes to all our friends and with malice toward none, I am very truly,

JAS. H. PARRISH.

Parrish will probably be taken to the Eddyville penitentiary by the sheriff of Hancock county in a few days.

CLOTHES AND THE MAN.

Good Appearance Waits Upon the Way Garments Are Worn.

"You can talk all you please about clothes making a man," said a Walnut street tailor, "but I want to say right now that the smartest clothes in the world can't make a man 'natty' if he is not naturally so. There is an old, stoop shouldered doctor uptown that I have been tailoring for seven years. He buys four and sometimes five suits a year, and yet, except for a few days after he has broken in each new suit, he never looks nice. The trousers bag at the knees, the coat falls away in front, and the shoulders begin to look sloppy. The man's drooping figure and the poor care he takes of his clothes furnish, of course, the explanation."

"Did you ever notice the average college man's clothes? Almost invariably he looks neat and correct despite the easy swing with which he walks. But you'll notice that he carries his head high, his shoulders fairly erect, and his trousers never 'break' at the shoes, so that the crease is always preserved. All classes of men go to college—rich and poor. Few college men take more than fair care of their clothes. It's all the way they wear their clothes, I think. Notice the young lawyers and doctors around town too. Few of them can afford the very best in tailor made clothes. That they usually look nice is due to the fact that they have picked up the distinguished way to wear clothes. I might call it. Clothes make the man, but only when the man is willing to help."—Philadelphia Record.

A TRUE STORY.

It Was Vouched For by the Gentleman Who Related It.

Some years ago in a certain town in the north a gentleman possessed of more money than education was asked to address the scholars attending one of the local schools some Sunday afternoon.

"Well, children," said he, "I'm not used to public speaking, but I remember when I was a lad I was very fond of hearing a story. Shall I tell ye a story?"

"Once upon a time many years ago there was a lad, a very good lad, who went regularly to Sunday school and never missed. But one Sunday afternoon as he was gawin' to school two bad boys met him and persuaded him to go bird nesting wiv 'em. So they went along by the riverside, and by and by they came to a tree, and in the tree on a branch which overhung the water was a nest. The two bad lads sent the good lad to climb the tree and fetch the eggs. Up he went and got on the branch, farther and farther, and just as he was reaching out his hand to take the nest the branch broke, and he fell into the river and was drowned."

After waiting a few moments to allow his hearers to thoroughly grasp the full extent of the catastrophe he resumed with:

"Children, the story is true, for the lad that was drowned was me."—London Tit-Bits.

The Act of Dying.

The common phrase "death agony" is not warranted by what occurs in natural death, which is a complete relief from all pain. When death is owing to heart failure or syncope it is sudden and painless, perhaps pleasant. Death by hanging, there is reason to believe, is attended by a voluptuous spasm. Death by decapitation or electricity is only a momentary shock, hardly felt. Death by poisoning varies in painfulness according to the poison employed. Opium and other narcotics probably give a painless, perhaps a pleasant, dreamful death. Hemlock, as we know from the account of the death of Socrates, causes gradual insensibility from below upward. On the other hand, arsenic, strychnine, carbolic and mineral acids, corrosive sublimate, tartar emetic and other metallic poisons inflict slow and torturing death. Prussic acid and cyanide of potassium cause quick death.—Exchange.

Glasses to Fit Four Eyes.

For several months a man had been going to various oculists, getting a pair of glasses, trying them for a few days and then taking them back. Two weeks ago one of his friends suggested an optician that he thought could do the trick and persuaded the troubled man to give him a trial. The result was the same as before, however, and the glasses were returned. Curious about the nature of the difficulty, the friend went to the optician and asked him what was the matter. "Why," replied the latter, "that fellow wants a pair of glasses that will suit both himself and his wife."—Philadelphia Times.

Knew Them.

"I am looking for a quiet place to rest," said the tired looking man. "I think we can safely promise you all the comforts of home," assured the hotel clerk.

"Not on your life!" exclaimed the tired looking man. "I've been married nine years and have seven children."—Philadelphia Record.

Prejudiced Opinion.

"What did the poet mean when he called his country 'the land of the free and the home of the brave'?" "He was probably referring to bachelors and married men," said old Mr. Smithers sadly.—Stray Stories.
